oooh yeah, oooh yeah, oooh yeah, oooh yeah

I got a little bit of reason for everything I've done.
I might just serenade the moonlight. And I get so lonely in this crowd. I want to scream but make no sound and yeah I'm lost but maybe I'll be found. Cs-when I'm in over my head; I hear the words you said.

That someone out there listening to the same song feeling the same way that I do. Make me a believer, pick up the receiver, tell me you feel just like I do, I do.

And I couldn't bear to see you walk out leave it all behind. I couldn't bear to see the sunlight.
And I love the sound of rain melting your screen door beckoning me in and yeah I'm mad but overcome with joy.
Could it be so dam naïve to hope you could agree.

Someone out there listening to the same song feeling the same way that I do. Make me a believer, pick up the receiver, tell me you feel just like I do, I do.

In a world that's cellophane you get so lost I know you do.
In a world that's cellophane.

Someone out there listening to the same song
feeling the same way that I do. Make me a believer, pick up the receiver, tell me you feel just like I do, I do.

Someone out there listening to the same song
feeling the same way that I do. Make me a believer, pick up the receiver, tell me you feel just like I do, I do.

oooh yeah, oooh yeah, oooh yeah, oooh yeah, oooh yeah, oooh yeah
